PITTSBURGH.

The town council met in regular session in the town hall. The meeting was called to order by Chairman J. J. Munroe. Messrs. Kearney, Donnelly, Hennigan, Lynott, Knowles, Clifford, and Tighe answered to the roll call. Chairman Kearney, of the street committee, reported to the council in regard to the grievance of K. J. Ross, asking the council to prevent the Ferry Bridge company from erecting their proposed bridge superstructure on the pier located on the Carbondale road. After practicing his remarks on the legal status of the case, Mr. Kearney offered the following resolution:

In reference to the application of the Ferry Bridge company and resolution accompanying same referred to this committee at your last regular meeting. We recommended the refusal of their request for a portion of the Carbondale road vacated and that they be notified to remove the present stone pier supporting their proposed structure and other obstructions in the Ferry road. In building the elevated approach to their bridge it must be at same height above the streets as original structure and not supported from the ground at any point between the face of this abutment and wing walls of the old canal bridge and the retaining wall at Main street by pier or other supports. Councilman Hennig, of the light committee recommended the placing of an arc light on William street and several incandescent lamps at desirable places throughout the borough. Councilman Donnelly introduced the following resolution: Resolved, by the council of the borough of Pittston, that a committee of three members be appointed, together with the burgess, to adjust the following differences between the borough and the Pittston Street Car company. First—that the amended ordinance as agreed to by the Pittston Street Car company to pay five feet of Main street. To use glider rails, etc. Second—that the portions of Main street upon which the Pittston Street Car company or constructed road shall widen such part of Main street so as to have a width of forty feet. Third, that the said street car company indemnify the property holders on South Main street by reason of four feet cut of grade by the said company for the purpose of running cars over the Erie and Wyoming Valley railroad bridge on South Main street. That the burgess is hereby directed and authorized to prevent the said street car company from further laying of road and erecting poles, hanging wires, viz., until the above complaints are compiled with to the satisfaction of the committee and council. After a bitter exchange of courtesies between Mr. Kearney and the author of the resolution over encroachments alleged by Mr. Kearney on his duties as contained in the resolution, the resolution was finally passed by a vote of 6 to 2. A resolution was introduced by Mr. Donnelly and carried, that a committee be appointed to confer with the officials of the Pennsylvania Coal company and the P. O. P. Water company relative to securing larger water mains on such streets of the borough which are not provided with proper fire hydrants. The council had not completed the last item of business of this letter.

Just as the car was about half way over the carriage, the engineer, who said that he received a signal to hoist, started up his engines. The carriage with two wheels of the car and the men on board began to ascend, with the above result.

The late for the reorganization in the tax collectorship case has been set for Thursday, June 7. Our Sunday school numbered 102 Sunday and the house was so crowded that it was impossible to do justice to the school. The trustees are thinking quite seriously of enlarging the chapel, which will soon be a necessity. Ep-

LAKE ARIEL.

Not having lost any of its form or beauties, Lake Ariel greets the visitor this year with the same delightful scene of crystal transparency as of yore. The water is the same strong and limpid waters resting in the bosom of the green fields, dotted here and there by woodland retreats stretching afar to the horizon, where the blue sky completes the picture. The surroundings are the only changes that the on-looker sees, and these are so numerous and executed with such good judgment that they improve the resort in no small degree.

Nature has bountifully supplied Ariel with its gifts, but the hand of man does much to enhance them, so that to enjoy them is not only an inward pleasure but a comfort as well. The surroundings have been so greatly beautified that one cannot but admire them.

The first noticeable improvement is on the lake house side and directly fronting the Erie and Wyoming Valley depot. This portion will also be used had been so long filled with stumps and rank grass now appears clear as the rest of the water.

During the winter and spring thousands of dollars have been spent in re-planting this material, but the improvement that has been made will be regretted by the proprietors do not regret the expenditure.

A fine harbor for boats has been built at this point and the boat house which formerly obscured the excursionist's view has been moved, making the beach free from all obstacles.

From the boat house a wide promenade has been built that extends along the shore facing the Lake House. To his already large fleet of boats Mr. Mills, the proprietor, has added thirty-two new row boats and a 45 foot steamer, which is a beautiful craft, and will be a delight to the excursionist's heart. This boat will be used to make a circuit of the lake and take on passengers making connections with all trains.

In connection with this fleet is the old steamer Grace, which was built by the Harrows, who constructed the Erie and Wyoming Valley Railroad company.

New cottages are being erected on all sides, among the owners of which will be C. D. Jones, of Jones Bros.; J. F. Megargal, of Megargal & Connel, and Lawyers, of Scranton.
